

I am a Barrister of almost 20 years call.

I came to the Bar in 2000.

I am a huge supporter of Social Mobility at the Bar generally as well as at the Criminal Bar. To this end, I speak in schools, I engage with numerous young people who are interested in a career at the Bar. Through various schemes inspiring futures, one million mentors and Association of Women Barristers mentoring scheme and Grays inn mentoring scheme.

As a BAME married mother of three of theese children, it is important for young people to see women such as myself remaining in the profession. The CBA social mobility committee and initiative is about #deedsnotwords.

I am proud to support this initiative through theirs and my own deeds.

Outside of the Bar I am involved in several other areas of work.
