

BPP University's Pro Bono Centre and the Citizenship Foundation invite you to Volunteer to bring the law to life in your local school

During National Pro Bono Week,
Monday 6 to Friday 10
November 2017

Legal professionals and law students across the UK will be visiting schools to run workshops created to encourage debate and discussion about the laws around Social Media.

For more information about how you or your firm/chambers can take part, please email PLE@my.bpp.com

 @ProBonoBPP @citizenship #NPBW2017
#WeDoProBono #bringlawtolife

Citizenship Foundation

BPP
UNIVERSITY
LAW SCHOOL

PRO BONO
CENTRE

Bring the law to life: providing free legal education to your local school

By signing up, your law firm/chambers will receive:

- Help being matched with a local school, if needed
- Resources which contain all the necessary legal content and have been designed by educational experts to stimulate debate and discussion
- On-line training to ensure that you feel confident in the classroom environment

The one hour workshop examines real life cases of people who have committed offences over Social Media and gets students to consider their opinions about an area of the law which is rapidly changing and evolving.

Sign up now for this opportunity to build links with your local community and develop employee engagement.

For more information about how you or your firm/chambers can take part, please email PLE@my.bpp.com

 @ProBonoBPP @citizenship #NPBW2017 #WeDoProBono #bringlawtolife

Citizenship Foundation

BPP
UNIVERSITY
LAW SCHOOL

PRO BONO
CENTRE